

Stllr Network and Payoneer Partner to Empower Independents in the Middle East with Seamless Payment Solutions

Stllr Network Inc, a regional network of independent creators and boutique agencies, is delighted to announce a new partnership with Payoneer (NASDAQ: PAYO), the financial technology company empowering the world's small and medium-sized businesses to transact, do business and grow globally.

The partnership will enable Stllr Network to make real time settlement to their independents utilizing Payoneer's payment platform. This partnership also empowers Stllr Network independents to receive global payments for their services seamlessly and securely in multiple currencies from clients all around the Middle East, with lower conversion fees.

Stllr Network and Payoneer's partnership will revolutionize the way Arab independents receive payments for their services. With reduced conversion fees and faster processing times, this partnership empowers Stllr Network independents to thrive in the regional freelance market.

New independents will be able to choose the Payoneer payment solution while setting up their Stllr Network account, and existing independents will be able to choose the same from their account settings.

"We're thrilled to partner with Payoneer to provide our community of independents with a secure, fast and compliant payment solution," said Nouran Ghannam, CEO of Stllr Network. "This partnership is an important milestone in providing a trusted financial solution to our independents, enabling them to automate and scale the payments they receive. This will empower us to provide improved support to our community of independents and creators and enable us to support their business growth. With Payoneer's global payment platform, Stllr Network will be able to make real-time settlements to our independents and they will be able to receive payments quickly and easily in the Middle East and Africa.

In the era of digital commerce revolution, it is evident that the global freelance economy plays a vital role in shaping its landscape. We take pride in our contribution to enabling the success of independents in the global digital commerce ecosystem. This partnership with Stllr Network will enable independents to have access to Payoneer suite of products including multi-currency accounts and commercial cards for global business. With Payoneer's secure and compliant payment solutions, independents will be able to get paid, manage their funds efficiently and pay their teams and studios" said Prabhakar Jayakumar, VP & Head of Middle East & Africa, Payoneer.

Payoneer supports the growth and success of freelancers worldwide. Their global payment platform helps freelancers and businesses receive payments through local receiving accounts in 9+ currencies from independents in 190+ countries and territories.
