Synergy Capital Concludes Advisory Services for MB Engineering-Led Consortium in 51% Acquisition of Maven Cables

**For Immediate Release****

Synergy Capital, a leading independent investment and financial advisory firm, is pleased to announce the successful conclusion of its advisory services to a consortium led by MB Engineering in the acquisition of a 51% stake in Maven Cables. Synergy Capital played a pivotal role in originating the deal, providing comprehensive advisory services throughout the acquisition process.

This strategic acquisition aligns with MB Engineering's long-term vision of expanding its operations and strengthening its presence in the low voltage manufacturing industry. Maven Cables, with 3500 tons annual capacity provides innovative solutions and robust market position, will benefit from MB Engineering's industry expertise, solidifying its standing in both local and international markets.

Synergy Capital's involvement in the transaction underscores its commitment to delivering tailored advisory services across various sectors. From deal origination to the final stages of the acquisition, Synergy Capital's expertise ensured the smooth execution of this complex and strategic transaction.

"We are proud to have facilitated this milestone deal, which reflects Synergy Capital's ability to identify and unlock strategic growth opportunities for our clients," said Mohamed Seddiek, CEO of Synergy Capital. "This acquisition demonstrates the strength of our advisory services in navigating the processes of M&A transactions, and we look forward to seeing the positive impact it will have on both MB Engineering and Maven Cables."

The transaction will enhance Maven Cables' capabilities and market reach while further cementing MB Engineering's role as a key player in the electrical engineering and infrastructure sectors. Synergy Capital remains committed to delivering value-driven advisory solutions, empowering clients to achieve their strategic objectives.
