

Rology Announces Jason Musyoka New Chief Financial Officer

Cairo, Feb 2023 - Rology, the leading teleradiology platform across the Middle East and Africa, announces Jason Musyoka has joined as their Chief Financial Officer, solidifying its executive team.

Rology is delighted to announce that Jason Musyoka has joined the Company as Chief Financial Officer to lead Rology's finance team. Jason has 15 years of experience spanning corporate finance, investment management and investment syndication in Africa.

Jason has a proven track record of managing finance functions, identifying and engaging with investors, managing the investment and capital structuring process, fund portfolio management and angel network capacity building for local and foreign angel investors. His rich and varied expertise will prove to be a major asset to Rology during this critical time of expansion.

Jason will be key in ensuring Rology achieves higher revenue growth and profitability, while working on everything from managing the company cash flow, to orchestrating Rology's financial stack and budgeting across the company. Jason will play a pivotal role in ensuring Rology delivers on its profitable growth goals.

Jason expressed his enthusiasm about joining Rology "I am really excited to be joining Rology. In varying ways, I've had the pleasure to work with the Rology team as a portfolio company and observed their growth over the years. It is truly amazing what they've achieved and how their work is impacting thousands of patients especially where radiological reporting could literally mean life & death. Joining their ranks is indeed a great privilege and I look forward to what we can achieve in the years to come."

This appointment is a pivotal moment for Rology, as it marks the final piece to complete the company's C-suite. Jason Musyoka joins an accomplished team of executives dedicated to Rology's mission of leveraging technology to save lives. Diversity and inclusion have always been integral to Rology's values. With Jason Musyoka's appointment, the company reinforces its commitment to diversity, fostering an environment where individuals from different backgrounds contribute their unique perspectives.

Amr AboDraiaa Rology's CEO added "Together, with our now complete C-suite, we are dedicated to fulfilling Rology's mission of utilizing technology to save lives. I am confident that Jason Musyoka will play a pivotal role in steering our financial strategy and contributing to the positive impact we aim to create in the healthcare sector. I extend a warm welcome to Jason and look forward to achieving new milestones together as we shape the future of health tech."

Following the successful acquisition of FDA clearance, Rology is poised for an ambitious expansion into new geographical markets, signaling a transformative shift in the landscape of the teleradiology industry.

For media inquiries, please contact marketing.r@rology.net

About Rology: Rology, the Middle East & Africa's leading AI-assisted teleradiology platform, has saved over 700,000 lives, and has partnered with over 150 clients (in the private & public sector) in 9 countries. Learn more about the company and its impact by visiting www.rology.health or by emailing us at info@rology.net

Photo of Jason Musyoka, Rology's Chief Financial Officer