AngloGold Ashanti plc is pleased to announce the appointment of Eng. Hoda Mansour as Managing Director and Vice Chair of Sukari Gold Mines, the largest gold mine in Egypt.

As part of a strategic partnership, AngloGold Ashanti operates the Sukari mine in collaboration with the Egyptian government. Prior to working at IFS she was with global software developer SAP for 10 years where she was the first person to hold the role of COO for the United Arab Emirates and Oman, and the first woman appointed managing director in SAP’s Middle East and Africa Region.

Since 2018 until today, Eng. Mansour has been recognised by business magazine Forbes Middle East as one of its Top 100 Most Powerful Businesswomen and in 2022 the magazine named her one of the Top 5 Women in Technology.

She is a Non-executive Director of Egypt’s Commercial International Bank, where she is board head of the Sustainability Committee, and member of the Operations & Technology Committee.
