HSBC Egypt launches Treasury APIs unlocking real-time access to its award-winning Cash Management Services

Cairo, Egypt- HSBC Bank Egypt has launched a new treasury API solution, helping businesses digitise their treasury operations. The new tool allows corporates to seamlessly integrate with the bank's treasury and payments systems, enabling real time access to HSBC's full suite of cash management solutions.

With HSBC Treasury APIs, businesses can now automate and streamline their treasury operations, from balance inquiries and transaction reporting to payment initiation and reconciliation directly from their own platforms.

Commenting on the launch, Todd Wilcox, Deputy Chairman & CEO HSBC Bank Egypt, said, "This marks a key milestone in advancing our digitization agenda in Egypt in line with HSBC's broader commitment to delivering innovative digital solutions that support clients' resilience and competitiveness. By giving businesses real time visibility and control over their cash, HSBC Treasury APIs help our clients unlock faster and smarter financial decisions and open new possibilities for growth."

HSBC's Treasury APIs are designed to facilitate new opportunities for businesses, making it easier to manage cash and make more informed daily financial and risk management decisions. They also reduce the risk of fraud and improve overall corporate governance in an increasingly dynamic financial environment.

Kyle Boag, HSBC Regional Head of Global Payments Solutions, Middle East, North Africa and Türkiye added, "Access to real-time payment and account services is no longer a trend; it is revolutionizing the way that people do business and is now a critical part of customer experience. Our API solution is designed to address the dynamic requirements of organizations and integration systems, delivering a more responsive and efficient treasury experience."
