

Fawry Signs Strategic Partnership with Congineer to Integrate Retail Pro and Odoo Systems with Digital Payment Solutions in Egypt

Cairo, Egypt – 29 September 2026: Fawry, Egypt's leading fintech company, announced a new collaboration through Fawry Business with Congineer, a company specializing in integrated technology solutions for the retail and business sectors and the official authorized partner of Retail Pro in Egypt. The partnership aims to provide an integrated technology solution that connects retail and business operations management, through a system incorporating Retail Pro and Odoo solutions, with advanced digital payment solutions.

The integration connects Retail Pro system, through Congineer's solutions, with Fawry's point-of-sale (POS) and payment solutions, allowing merchants to manage their sales operations through their operating system and process payments through Fawry's solutions, whether using Congineer's POS devices or Fawry's POS devices.

The integrated solution provides businesses with greater flexibility in managing their day-to-day operations, offering multiple operational benefits, including streamlining daily processes by bringing together sales management, point-of-sale functions, and payment processing within one interconnected system, while reducing manual intervention through process automation to minimize human errors and accelerate workflows. It also provides comprehensive financial visibility through clear and accurate reports on operational and financial activities. In addition, it enables flexible payroll management, as Fawry Business' payroll portal allows businesses to schedule and transfer employee payments through bank accounts, e-wallets, "myfawry yellowcard," or cash vouchers.

This collaboration comes as part of Fawry Business' approach to expanding its range of digital solutions for the business sector through integration with specialized technology systems. This helps merchants and businesses manage their payment and operational processes in a more integrated manner while meeting their growing need for flexible and easy-to-use digital solutions.

Commenting on the collaboration, Nazmy Said, CEO of Congineer, said: "At Congineer, we focus on developing an integrated ecosystem of technology solutions that helps merchants and businesses manage their operations in a more integrated and efficient manner. Through our solutions powered by global systems such as Retail Pro and Odoo, we work to provide advanced tools for point-of-sale management and operational processes that are tailored to the needs of the Egyptian market".

He added: "Our collaboration with Fawry represents an important step in this direction, as we work through the integration between Congineer's solutions, Retail Pro, and Fawry's payment solutions to provide merchants with a smoother and more flexible operational experience. This integration also enables our customers to benefit from payment solutions through Congineer's or Fawry's POS devices, giving them wider options while enhancing the efficiency of sales and business management operations."

Commenting on the partnership, Bassem Lotfy, Head of Business Development at Fawry, said: "At Fawry Business, we continue to expand our digital solutions through building strategic partnerships with specialized technology companies, enabling us to provide innovative solutions that meet the evolving needs of the business sector. Our collaboration with Congineer represents another step toward providing a more seamless experience for merchants and small and medium-sized business owners by offering payment and point-of-sale management solutions within a more integrated ecosystem, contributing to streamlining their daily operations and enhancing business efficiency."

Through this collaboration, Fawry and Congineer aim to expand the availability of the integrated solution to the retail sector and business owners across the Egyptian market, while continuing to develop new services and solutions that combine business management and fintech, supporting digital transformation and enhancing the efficiency of day-to-day operations.
